

Manhattan...but a little bit more liberal...

The Manhattan cocktail was allegedly invented by a Dr Lain Marshall in the early 1870s at a banquet in support of presidential candidate Samuel J. Tilden that was hosted by Sir Winston Churchill's mother, Lady Randolph Churchill. Apparently the party was such a blast and the drinks were so good that guests started craving for it, and without any better name to use, began referring to it by the club where it was first tasted, New York City's Manhattan Club.

Our recipe is different from the classic Manhattan. We are using dark rum instead of rye whisky to stir things up. The sweetness is coming from Punt e Mes sweet vermouth and the extra kick is from a special blend of bitters. Yes, that's all it takes to make a delicious and refreshing rum Manhattan, but the secret to taking this drink to the next level is the NLC oak barrel. The oak lends incredible flavours such as vanilla, caramel, and a little bit of natural sweetness. We believe that aging this cocktail in the barrel is the perfect slow mixing process which makes our Manhattan a lovely any time drink.

Sitting in the smoking room by the fire sipping a glass of it can take you back to a different time and world where the flames of the fire and the natural flavours from the barrel warm up your body and soul. Enjoy!
